Two-year-old Herman Wengroven, of 220 Madison Street, stepped off the curb in front of 199 Suffolk Street yesterday just as a motor truck approched Samuel Spiegel, of 185 Jecond Street, who was driving the vehicle applied his brake, but the truck slid on the slippery pavement and the boy was killed.

Jennery Grant, of New Haven, Conn.,

Mr. Cohen, an attorney who was recently adjudged sane and released from the hospital.
Cohen said that during his confinement he learned of many persons being detained who were not insane and he promised to obtain writs for them as soon as he was released from the hospital.
Cohen has kept this promise, much to the consternation of the court.
"Of course," said Justice Giegerich, "it would not be practicable to have all of the persons named in this writ, or those of them who are still inmates, brought here at one and the same time."

Mr. Cohen suggested an application could get Joseph P. Tumulty to do was to have these cables referred to John Barton Payne, chairman of the Shipping Board at the time of the incident.

Captain Chambless charged also that the crew assigned to his ship, with the exception of his chief mate, was incompetent. He said that in revenge for his confiscation of liquor procured by members of the crew during calls at St. Thomas and the Barbadoes they had entered into a conspiracy with the supercargo and assisted the acting consul at Rio in carrying through plans by the captain, but this later proved to be an error.

Elliott asserted in his testimony that he overheard the captain being offered a bribe to withdraw his objections to the repair bill and heard Captain Chambless refuse to do so.
